TOLD ONCE MORE.

TERRIBLE RAVAGES OF THE FEVER.

The Weekly Statement of Deaths in the Infected District—The Destitution Beyond Control in New Orleans—Appeals for Government Aid Answered.

WASHINGTON, October 5.—The secretary of war recently received a telegram signed by the presidents of thirty charitable associations in New Orleans, in regard to his suspension of the order to deliver 40,000 rations to the yellow fever sufferers of that city, for the reason that the Howards had sufficient funds. The secretary in reply says he is still of the opinion that it is possible to get relief from private sources, and that it is therefore not a case for the extension of government aid in the absence of authority. If the Howard association have a large unexpended fund, they can help the societies. At all events their discretion is far more ample than his.

He also sent a telegram to Captain C. W. Howell, stationed at New Orleans, to report whether the Howards still refuse to relieve, with the funds in their hands, the destitute who have not actually had the fever, and the extent of the suffering among them, and whether there was any mode of relief except by government aid. Captain Howell replied that the Howards for some time have not confined the work of relief to fever cases. Its president informed him that they had expended a large amount outside. When the Howards announced that they had abundant means, it had the relief of the sick alone in view; but since they have found it necessary to extend their field of operations, owing to the great and increasing destitution among the laboring classes, they do not think there is any way of giving full relief without government aid. The secretary then telegraphed Collector Smith at New Orleans as follows: "It appearing that the Howard association is contributing toward the relief of the destitute, whether sick or not, and that there is want and suffering that they cannot relieve, I have, by direction of the president, ordered that the 40,000 rations be sent forward. This is probably all that I can do, and you must continue to appeal to the charitable for help."

MEMPHIS AND NEW ORLEANS.

A Call from Germantown—Mention of the Dead.

MEMPHIS, October 5.—Dr. Mitchell, medical director of the Howards, received the following telegram from Germantown, Tenn.: "Send a doctor to us at once. Dr. Thompson is prostrated. Ten new cases have developed in the past 24 hours. No physicians to help us."

From noon yesterday to noon to-day the undertakers report 39 interments. Of these 27 were reported this morning. Among those who have died since last night are John A. Holt, cashier of the bank of Commerce; S. M. Jobe, Howard association; Mrs. J. M. Tomeny, W. Krans, druggist in charge of Fablen & Kleinschmidt's drug house; Mrs. Lucie Adams, Mrs. J. M. Shaw, Mrs. C. N. Howard, John E. Miller, a nurse from Texas; Mrs. A. W. Nelson, A. Strattman, Thomas Kofferd and Mrs. T. J. Washington.

NEW ORLEANS, October 5.—There were 52 deaths and 85 new cases to-day.

R. G. Raul, telegrapher, died at Osyka, Miss., last night. Grand Worthy Templar McLaughlin, makes an appeal for aid in behalf of members of the order here, prostrated by the fever, to grand and subordinate templars of honor and temperance throughout the United States.

WILL CONTINUE MANY WEEKS.

The Homeopathic relief association issue a circular saying that the meteorogical conditions prevailing here indicate a continuance of the fever for many weeks. They further assert that their organization is independent of Howards and all other associations, and have received no benefit from any funds sent the latter; that their practice has been preeminently successful in the epidemic and ask further aid.

APPEALS FOR AID.

Special dispatch to The Constitution.

MEMPHIS, October 5.—The fever continues to spread. The board of health reports 28 deaths in the 24 hours ending at 6 o'clock to-night; the undertakers reports 17 deaths outside the corporation. Dr. Dangstaff, president of the Howards, telegraphs from Brownsville: "Send by to-morrow's train five good experienced female nurses, all white if possible; affairs here are quite distressing." Dr. Mitchell has received a telegram asking for two physicians and four nurses to be sent to Hickman, Ky., and the following: "Tuscumbia, Alabama—Several cases of fever here; our people are much alarmed; send if possible one physician and two or three good nurses by first train. A. Steger, mayor." Twenty-two Howard physicians report 105 new cases,

GOV. NICHOLL'S CHILD SICK.

Special dispatch to The Constitution.

NEW ORLEANS, October 5.—Gov. Nicholls received a telegram that one of his children had the fever at his country residencer, near Thibadeaux. Accompanied by Dr. Chappin he left on a special train for Thibadeaux. Among the new cases reported to-day six were at the Charity hospital, three in the marine department of the Hotel Dieu, and seven along Gentilly road. The Howards received the following "Baton Rouge—Dr. Dupree is down sick. The fever is increasing to such an extent as to render it necessary to ask for two good physicians to be sent up by this evening's boat."

CHATTANOOGA.

Two Deaths and Twenty-One Cases—An Appeal for Aid.

CHATTANOOGA, October 5.—For the twenty-one hours ending at 4 p. m., two deaths and 21 new cases. The relief committee has issued an appeal for aid, saying that Chattanooga, for a time, expected immunity from the fever, and devoted itself to sending relief elsewhere, now finds themselves with only a few days of money and supplies ahead, and the demands increasing. We need money and supplies, and especially competent female nurses.

Open-Air Concert for Yellow Fever Sufferers.

We call attention to the programme of a lawn party and open-air concert for the yellow fever sufferers at the calico house next Tuesday night. It will be a delightful affair. The admission has been put at the low figure of 15 cents. This is certainly very low for such an entertainment. The best musicians of the city will make music. Let there be a general attendance in the good cause.

THE LATEST AS TO THE RACE.

Special dispatch to The Constitution.

In the second race, Nursery stake, for two-year-olds, three-quarters of a mile, nine started. In betting, Uncas and Harold were even favorites; the others were little sought after. At the start Morris' Regardless colt led the others, but Uncas soon drew away at the half-mile pole two lengths ahead. Up to the last furlong it looked like easy victory for Uncas, when, like a flash, Withers' King Ernest colt, out of Ether, dashed to the front and won amidst the wildest cheers by a length and a half; Uncas second, Morris' colt third, followed by Dan Sparting, Harold, Wissahickon, Bonnie Leaf, Westminster and Startle; time, 1:19.

Third race—Jerome stakes, for three year olds, mile and three-quarters, was won by Duke Magenta by a length ahead. Spartan, 2d; Albert, 3d. Time, 2:11¾. The Duke Magenta was never headed. The betting was two to one on Duke.

Fourth race—Manhattan handicap, sweepstakes, one mile and a quarter. It was won easily by Garrick, who was the favorite, by three lengths before General Phillips and half a length before Lou Lanier; beating Lady Salyers, Pilot, Susquehannah, Bonnie Wood, Princeton and Balance-All. Nine started. Time, 2:11¾.

Fifth purse $300, winner to be sold at auction for $1,500, if entered to be sold. For $1,000, there will be allowed 5lbs; if for $750, 10 lbs; if for $500, 16 lbs; if for $300, 22 lbs. Hughes was off the track the greater part of the day, but came on occasionally in the afternoon. On the 6th lap of the 311th mile he left the track for good, at 9:49 p. m.

THE CRICKETERS.

PHILADELPHIA, October 5.—The cricket game was resumed at 11:40. Philadelphia at the bat. Weather fine. Attendance large. The interest felt, however, is not so interesting as yesterday it being almost a foregone conclusion. The game will be drawn, as it is scarcely possible for two innings to be played out in one day. A bannerman of the Australian team, sprained his foot catching in the railroad track. His place in the field was taken by Haines. John Hargreave and Francis Brewster went to bat to bowling of the Denion, Hargreaves taking the first ball.

GLASGOW JAY-COOKED

A FAILURE WITH MILLIONS IN IT.

All the Money in the Isle of Man Involved—Immense Advances to Different Parties—One of the Directors a Borrower—Reaching Out to Distant Points.

LONDON, October 5.—The report yesterday of the failure of a large ship-building firm in Glasgow is confirmed, but the name of the firm is not yet published, though the liabilities are stated at £60,000. Two, possibly three, other ship-builders will fail. It is rumored that Potter, one of the directors of the City of Glasgow bank, also a member of the firm of Potter, Wilson & Co., which failed when the bank closed doors, had a large advance from broken banks. The bank of Monoa, a local branch of the City of Glasgow bank in the Isle of Man, held a million and a half to three quarters of dollars deposits, being about all the spare money in this land, and many persons are left destitute. The Times says: "We have reason to hope that the deficit which the shareholders of the City of Glasgow bank must meet will not exceed ten millions of dollars."

With a view to afford relief to the depositors as soon as possible, a committee of other Scotch banks is making arrangements to pay ten shillings in the pound as soon as a refugee, and one death.

THE MEETING AT GRADYVILLE.

The Buckhead Men at a Barbecue.

Yesterday there was a barbecue given by the friends of Col. Reuben Arnold at Gradyville, in the upper end of this county. It was under the auspices of the Buckhead greenback club, and was attended by a large number of the yeomanry from around Buckhead and Gradyville, with a number from the city.

Col. D. P. Hill offered to Col. Hammond that he (Hill) should speak half an hour, Hammond three-quarters and Hill reply in half an hour. Hammond accepted the terms. Mr. Hill discussed the finances, saying that the difference between his platform and the Barnesville platform was that his called for immediate substitution of legal tender paper for national bank notes, and the immediate payment of the public debt, while that at Barnesville proposed to do these things gradually.

As to the nomination, he said he did not propose to be whipped into a support of the party; that he did pledge himself to stand by the action of the Atlanta primary, but felt absolved from that because Dr. Ronch was not allowed his seat in the Barnesville convention. He said he feared that Hammond was not sincere when he declared himself in accord with the Ohio democratic party as to finances; that Hammond was not known to stand there till his nomination. He said that the five delegates from Fulton holding out for Hammond in Barnesville till he was nominated was not democratic, and that their five votes should not have been counted as six.

In reply, Col. Hammond said that he could not discuss the the finances in the short time given him. He asked them to read carefully his acceptance and Decatur speech, printed copies of which he distributed. Continuing, he made the following points: The Barnesville platform is a copy of the financial planks of the Ohio platform of last June. So far from this platform being unacceptable to him, his ticket for delegates to the convention had the following heading written by himself, and paid for by himself when it was published, before the election, in THE DAILY CONSTITUTION: "The following ticket, if elected, will use all honorable means to secure the nomination of N. J. Hammond by the Barnesville convention. They belong to the democratic party, which is persistently fighting the ruinous contraction policy of the republicans, which feels the want of an enlarged and healthy currency, and which has the power to render such aid." And the tickets voted for him were headed as follows: "The following ticket, if elected to represent Fulton county in the Barnesville convention, will favor the adoption of a platform containing the financial views of Senator Thurman in his late greenback speech."

This was open, not concealed. So far from waiting for a platform, he practically declared that he stood upon the platform before its adoption. It is the platform endorsed by Senators Thurman and Pendleton of Ohio, and all the leading democrats of the west and south, and opposed by none but the hard-money men, led by Bayard, and the fiat money men led by Beast Butler. He asked what right has any one to doubt his sincerity, and dared any one to point out an instance when he had deceived his fellow-citizens. As to his delegation voting six votes, he showed that the county had six votes without regard to the number of delegates, and instanced Mr. Graham's casting two votes for Milton, in the convention of 1876, and twenty-four men costing the six votes of Muscogee in the late convention of the 4th district.

As to the four sticking out for him, he called attention to the fact that Judge DeKalb, who stuck out till Candler was nominated and yet never incurred the blame of any democrat. He showed how Messrs. Arnold, Hill and others had pledged themselves to stand by the action of the Barnesville convention, and yet stand to-day in open defiance of it upon the miserable pretext that Dr. Roach was not allowed to be counted in on Blacker's vote.

He asked, "Will you ask covenant breakers to instruct you as to duty?"

He denounced the charge that he was unfriendly to the masses, alluded to his residence of twenty-five years in Atlanta, and challenging the production of any one whom he had mistreated in all that time.

He drew a contrast between the convention by which he was nominated and that which put forth Mr. Arnold. One was called by the proper democratic authorities and all had months of notice; the other was called by Dan Pittman on three days' notice in an Atlanta daily paper. The people sent delegates to the first; in the latter were seven delegates, sent by nobody, and represented but three counties, and four of the seven were from Fulton. His nomination was open. These seven delegates, self-constituted, offered their nomination to Pittman, Holcomb and others, and upon their refusal to accept it, tendered it to Arnold. A leading spirit in it was Thurman, not of Ohio, but a radical of Spalding.

Mr. Hill informed Col. Hammond that his time was up and proceeded to reply.

His reply was a rehash of his former speech and certain personal flings at Col. Hammond. Alluding to putting George McKinney, colored, on the committee which framed their platform, he asked Col. Hammond, "Don't you want negro votes?" Col. Hammond replied "yes, and I will get them, but not by such fraudulent pretexts as that I would solicit such a man as George to aid in arranging a platform on national finances."

He said that the country people ought to have been allowed to vote in the primary.

Col. Hammond said: "Was not that mass meeting authorized to decide when, where and how the voing should be had?" Mr. Hill assented.

Col. Hammond asked: "Were not your side in charge of the meeting, and did they not have absolute control of the matter?" Mr. Hill assented.

Col. Hammond said: "Then why did you not fix another day and open all the polls?"

Hill replied: "We thought we had the advantage of you then and feared to appoint another day."

Mr. Hill undertook to review Col. Hammond's record in the convention.

Col. Hammond said: "You garble. Here is the speech, read a few lines more." Mr. Hill's refusal to read even a line more than suited his purpose was the best answer to his groundless charge. It was evident that Colonel Hammond had made a deep impression upon the thinking men present.

After dinner John Thomas made one of his characteristic speeches. Dr. Roach spoke announcing himself an Arnold man. Judge Dan Pittman again aired his greenback logic, and Jesse W. Jackson capped the climax for the disorganizers.

FOR THE LEGISLATURE.

Col. B. F. Abbott announced that he was a candidate, and would make the race as an organized democrat. He spoke only a few minutes, and was well received by the audience.

There was present at the barbecue and speaking about two hundred men. About fifty or sixty of this number came from Atlanta.

The Social Bill.

LONDON, October 5.—A Berlin dispatch says that Bismarck has had a conference with the crown prince regarding the anti-socialist bill, which it is seriously feared will fail, as a majority of the reichstadt persistently refuse to yield on the question of limiting the duration of the law.

The Constitution.

ATLANTA, GA., OCTOBER 6, 1878.

FROM the manner in which men of all parties are hastening to put themselves on record in favor of an uniform national currency, it would seem as if it was the national bankers instead of the Chinese who are "to go."

THE annual term of the United States supreme court begins to-morrow. The docket is full of cases of unusual importance, some of which will be given precedence, and argued at once. Among the latter is a case involving the power of congress to interfere with polygamy in Utah. The old credit mobilier case is before the court for a rehearing, and so is the suit to compel the Pacific roads to pay five per cent of their net earnings to the government as a sinking fund.

THE Houston county fair, which was held last week, passed off in fine style, and has been a great success. The display was fine and the crowd large. Friday, Governor Colquitt and Colonel N. J. Hammond addressed the people upon the political issues now pending, and their speeches were received with great applause. The governor called attention to the discord which squall factions are striving to engender in the democratic ranks, and urged upon the people the necessity of polftical unity and harmony.

ALREADY over eight hundred congressional nominations have been reported, or an average of nearly three to each congressional district. In some districts the democrats, republicans, nationalists, socialists and prohibitionists are each supporting a different candidate. It is a noticeable fact that although nearly all the members of the present house desired renominations, only 116 out of 292 have secured a chance for another term. This is a very small proportion, and is an indication that the people prefer either new or better men.

CAPTAIN J. P. THOMAS, who was nominated by the democrats of Burke to fill the vacancy in the legislaure from that county caused by the resignation of Mr. L. A. Corker, was yesterday elected by a majority of two hundred and three votes.

THE Speer campaign seems to have fallen altogether flat. The independent candidate in the ninth is not even creating the enthusiasm we had expected, and it appears that the humorous prediction of Tinney Rucher that he won't carry a county would be verified. It is a very Next Tuesday's Elections.

Ohio, Indiana, Iowa and West Virginia, by their elections of day after tomorrow, will practically decide whether the democrats are to control the next house of representatives, whether they are to have a walk-over or a battle in 1880, whether the coming man is to be Thurman, Hendricks or Tilden, whether the greenback-labor movement is to assume large proportions, whether the November elections are to constitute a democratic tidal wave. These elections will not of course settle beyond dispute any of these propositions, but in the minds of intelligent and impartial men they will be very apt to afford a basis for the solution of the last one of them.

We do not care to consider in advance these elections, except in reference to the control of the forty-sixth congress. Iowa and Ohio have already elected senators whose terms begin next March. West Virginia does not elect a senator this winter. The only senatorship at stake in Tuesday's election is the one now held by Mr. Voorhees. Indiana is a democratic but an outrageously gerrymandered state. The greenbackers are active, and it may be that they will deprive the democrats of some districts that Mr. Voorhees' record and capacity entitle him to. But whether Mr. Voorhees becomes his own successor or not, the senate will, after the fourth of next March, be in democratic hands.

The four states elect forty-five members of the lower house. At present their delegations stand as follows:

	Reps.	Dems.
Indiana	9	4
Iowa	9	0
Ohio	12	8
West Virginia	0	3
Total	30	15

The keenest interest is felt in the election of the new delegations. Considerable democratic gains are generally anticipated. In some of the Indiana congressional districts the democrats and greenbackers have combined, and it is reasonably certain that the republicans will lose at least two districts. Both Mr. Hendricks and Mr. Voorhees have done all they could to arouse the people, and the democrats are full of enthusiasm and earnestness. Ohio has been redistricted, giving the democrats a square chance. If they carry the state, as they confidently expect to do, they will also carry a majority of the congressional districts. The greenback vote in this state, as in most of the other northern states, is an unknown quantity, and the counting out will be watched with great interest. The radicals have succeeded in several districts in putting up greenback nominees to divide the democratic vote; although the democrats of Ohio are almost to a man in favor of all the currency relief that can legitimately be granted. Money and deputy marshals will be freely used by the republican office-holders, but the belief prevails that the democracy will reverse the figures representing the political complexion of the congressional delegation. And there is hope even in Iowa, which has long been the Vermont of the west. The democrats and greenbackers have effected a complete fusion, and men do predict the election of three or four fusion nominees. Stranger things might happen, now that we have thoroughly digested the results in Maine and Vermont. No change will occur in the figures of West Virginia.

The great puzzle is, of course the greenback vote; but there is no intelligent republican who believes that his party can come out of the smoke of next Tuesday's battle with thirty out of forty-five members, while there are many democrats who claim a majority in the four delegations. If the democrats had secured a fair apportionment in Indiana, we would not hesitate to predict a complete reversal of the present figures. Considering the last certain extent of the Greenback vote, it will be better however to leave the matter to Wednesday morning's lighting rather than attempt a settlement of it in this morning's prophecies.

The Eastern Troubles.

The Austrian occupation of Bosnia and Herzegovina is complete, and the insurgents who have not been killed or captured are fleeing across the lines of the two provinces into sympathetic Servia. They fought without definite purpose—their dislike of Servia was almost as great as of Austria—they did not, like the Swiss, strike for independence—they were simply opposed to Austrian occupation, with no alternative attached; and it is much better for all that the resistance to Austria has been overcome. The absence of armed opposition does not, however, bring tranquilitly to Austria. To the cost of accomplishing the occupation of the two warlike provinces must now be added the cost of maintaining that occupation. This renders the Magyar part of the composite state restive. The Magyars do not relish the idea of paying in good part for an increase of Sclavic strength and influence. Pesth has always been jealous of Vienna; but as the population of Bosnia is not homogeneous, a way will doubtless be found to soothe the discontent in Hungary, and the patchwork state will then be as happy as she is lucky.

The pending crisis in Hungary does not, in fact, necessarily affect the general policy of the empire; for the empire is the dual arrangement effected by Count Von Beust. The Hungarian ministers who tendered their resignations are responsible to the Hungarian diet—Hungary and Austria proper, each having a cabinet of their own. Count Andrassy is the head of a ministry for the whole empire, which is responsible to a parliament of one hundred and twenty members—one-half from Austria, and the other half from Hungary. Questions like that of the Bosnian occupation are decided by the imperial parliament, and this parliament is in full accord with the policy of Count Andrassy. Hungary pays thirty per cent of the expense of the Bosnian war, but there is no doubt of her intention to fully sustain all the acts of the imperial parliament; and the action of the Hungarian ministry will not, therefore, necessarily reverse, or materially modify the policy of the government.

The settlement of the Bosnian difficulty does not, however, restore peace to the east. As time advances we find that the Berlin skimmer is very full of holes—that in fact it is a flat failure as a peace instrument. Now that Bosnia is off the carpet, Greece threatens war, and it begins to look as if it would be no small affair. It will certainly be large enough to keep Turkey in a stew, and all Europe disturbed. The Berlin plenipotentiaries advised Turkey to do something for her, but Turkey refuses to do more than to promise to give her at some future time not named, if she behaves herself, a few islands. This does not of course satisfy Greece, and she is preparing for war beyond all doubt. Sanvet Pasha, Turkey's minister of foreign affairs, in a circular to the powers charges the Greek government with acts intended to stir up the people of Epirus and Thessaly, and with preparations to put an army of 40,000 men in the field, with a reserve of 35,000. Large orders for supplies and a by no means inconsiderable loan leave, it is claimed, no doubt of her immediate intentions.

This will bring the Greek question to a focus. The Greeks claim that their kingdom should extend at least as far as Greeks predominate. They really want all that is left of European Turkey, including Constantinople. At present, however, the Hellenic dream is more moderate. It includes only "a rectification of frontiers." This means Thessaly and Epyrus. This means, however, that the heroism of which Halleck sang is permeating the Grecian people. They look forward to a new life, to generations of progress. And we may be sure that if they are imbued with this sentiment, this hope, there will be no peace until it is gratified. The powers may hesitate, but in the end the Asiatic barbarians will retreat across the Bosphorus, and the Greek question will be settled. Such a settlement will not be delayed beyond the lives of many who read this page this morning.

The Legislature and the Judges.

When the Georgia legislature meets in November the members thereof will have a very responsible duty to perform in the election of judges of the superior courts of the state. The responsibility involved is very great. When the governor appointed, as under the old constitution, a judge of the superior court, he not only knew the qualifications of the different applicants, but had before him the petitions of members of the bar, and these were often supplemented by the signatures of prominent men, who, having no connection with the law, are, nevertheless, prominent and powerful in their sections, and are what is known as conservators of public opinion. The governor might have had his personal preferences, but he had no other choice than to recommend to the senate the names of those who had, or seemed to have, the largest number of backers, if such an expression may be applied to those who are in favor of the most popular man. To this extent the duty of the governor was plain. He had all the facts before him, and by merely referring to the petitions, could tell, with reasonable certainty, which candidate would be most acceptable to the people.

It is to be feared that the legislature which is to elect judges will not be as fully informed with respect to the wishes of the people and of the bar, and in view of this fact, it is to be hoped that the people and the bar of each judicial circuit will unite in putting forth a candidate for the vacant judgeship—a candidate that will be satisfactory to each. The legislature, if it acts in good faith to the people, will have to adopt some policy in regard to this matter, and we know of none likelier to give greater satisfaction or to prevent the confusion and embarrassment that must follow an indiscriminate candidate before that body. The remedy for this is plain. The man who is the choice of a majority of the legislators from any particular circuit and who has the endorsement of a majority of the members of the bar of the circuit ought to receive the unanimous support of the general assembly. There should be some policy to govern the legislature and we know of none that would give more satisfaction than the policy which would fulfill the expectations of those most nearly concerned. Otherwise the confusion will be almost interminable and the dissatisfaction widespread.

In view of these facts, it is the duty of the people and the members of the bar of the circuits to which judges are to be elected to designate their choice, so that the legislature may act with some degree of certainty. We know of no other method of choosing judges so as to give satisfaction, and we broach the subject at this time in order that our state exchanges may give the subject their consideration and make such suggestions as may seem to them pertinent.

OWING to the raising of a question over the validity of the last two millions of bonds issued by the city of Cincinnati to complete its southern road, it is probable that the completion of the road will be further delayed. The contractors have asked that their contract be so modified that they will have one year from the time the bonds are pronounced valid by the courts, in which to finish the road. This is a reasonable request, which cannot well be refused; and if it is granted, we need not expect a completion of the line before 1880.

SOME of Dr. Felton's organs are engaged in defending Majah Zacky Hargrove. This sort of thing makes the campaign amusing.

No society news is complete that doesn't announce the movements of Mrs. Jenks and Liza Pinkston, in connection with those of John Sherman. Society editors should have more elbow room any way.

IT is well that upon occasion that newspapers, no matter how far apart they may be as to time, space and circumstance, should become coparceners, as it were, with respect to the advocacy of great questions of public polity. It is with pleasure, therefore, that we observe the strenuous manner in which we are abetted by Mr. John Cockerill, of the Baltimore Gazette, in our efforts to make Colonel Delancy Kane and his profession of hostlery prominent institutions in this country. Such able hostlers as Colonel Kane are deserving of a healthy public support, and we add our voice to that of the Gazette in announcing to the to the nation at large that the manly sport of tally-hoeing should be introduced into all well-regulated families. A man who can tally-hoe with success is entitled to great consideration, and the sooner this fact is acknowledged by voters of all shades of opinion the sooner will a substantial prosperity return to bless the people. We can all then chew fine-cut tobacco and make mouths at our neighbors' cooks from the back-door. It is with the people to say whether this happy day shall dawn or whether we shall plod along in the eaves of gloom.

DR. FELTON and his friends are very much outraged at the candidacy of Holtzclaw. Wherefore? Holtzclaw will certainly get no democratic votes. Why should Mrs. F.'s husband complain?

THURLOW WEED is a greenbacker—and a good one. This is the next thing to democracy. We shall be glad to receive Thurlow into the fold.

THE harvest of colored affidavits in the seventh district is not as large as Dr. Felton's losing cause would seem to justify. How can politics become popular without a mosaic collection of colored affidavits? These ably composed documents are the only real arguments that have yet been advanced in favor of Dr. Felton, and we have no doubt that they will gain him the support of some of the most elaborate radicals in the district.

THERE is a man in the neighborhood of Ann Arbor who is always discovering new planets and thirteenth stars. Thus far he has succeeded in failing to turn his telescope in the direction of Washington for the purpose of hunting for John Sherman's honesty. But the man knows more about the power of his glass than we do.

Coalition: Thurman and Hendricks.

Boston Globe.

Conkling is very reckless in some of the statements in his Saratoga speech. He charges Senator Thurman and Governor Hendricks, as well as the leaders of the western and southern democracy generally, and a portion of the eastern democracy, with being Confederates. This is not true so far as the ex-Confederates mentioned are concerned. They are not antiunionists. Both have recently positively declared their sentiments in speeches which have had a wide circulation. They are both opposed to the existing national bank system, and in favor of substituting legal-tender issues for national bank bills. But this measure is as far from inflation as the equator from the pole. It leaves the amount of the currency precisely where it is. Everybody knows that the change of one sort of paper currency for another sort of equal value is not inflation, and nobody knows it better than Roscoe Conkling.

Sound and Happy.

Baltimore Gazette.

THE ATLANTA CONSTITUTION, the brightest and newsiest daily paper in the south, has donned a new suit of claw-hammer clothes and now looks as happy as a jour printer going on horseback to marry the only daughter of an asthmatic bondholder. In addition to being sound on the political questions of the day, THE CONSTITUTION (as amended) is unanimously in favor of popularizing Colonel Delancey Kane and his gay, white "cady," and hopes to see the day when even the humblest citizen of the United States will drive to and from his place of business in a tallow-hoe with red wheels.

A Hint for Mr. Hayes.

Washington Post.

Mr. Grant has at last awakened to the requirements of the times and contributed to the yellow fever relief fund. We commend this fact to the prayerful attention of Mr. Hayes, who, we think, could advantageously devote to the same purpose certainly as much of President Tilden's money as President MacMahon did of his own.

Something to be Proud of.

Washington Post.

THE ATLANTA CONSTITUTION has indulged in what might be called a new dress, which sets off all its inherent beauties to advantage. To say that THE CONSTITUTION is one of the brightest, newsiest journals of the country, a paper of which the whole south may well be proud, is but to state a self-evident fact, apparent to all.

Grant Still Ahead.

Cincinnati Enquirer.

Here and there some distinguished republican pops into prominence, and his name is at once associated with republican nomination for the presidency; but his light lasts for a short time only. The real candidate the radicals have is General Grant, and the democrats might as well make up their minds to face him in 1880.

The Constitution as a Rattler.

Dahlonega Signal.

THE ATLANTA CONSTITUTION has appeared in its new dress. It is handsome and sprightly and is surely the best daily in the south. We wish it much joy and great success, and we hope it will continue to rattle the dry bones of the independents until they learn what is best for the country.

A Practice Full of Danger.

Washington Post.

Western radical papers are warning their party against the danger of "scratching." The ground of apprehension is that when a voter begins to scratch a radical ticket, he can see no good place to stop nor any good reason for stopping, so long as an original name is left on the ballot.

The Constitution.

THE SCHOOL CONTROVERSY.

Gov. Brown Makes His Charges More Specific against Mr. Mallon, and Introduces Additional Evidence.

EDITORS CONSTITUTION:—Mr. Mallon, in attempting to excuse himself for admitted incompetency to teach part of the regular course taught in the schools under his charge, assumes that I, as president of a railroad company, am not able to run a steam engine. Let us see whether there is any analogy between the two cases. As president of a railroad company, my business in connection with the board of directors, is to manage the finances and exercise a general supervision over the affairs of the company. It is no part of my duty to oversee the details of the business; nor is it any part of my business to run an engine.

We employ a superintendent, who, when a young man, to prepare himself for the responsible position he occupies, labored in the machine shops and other departments of railroading, until he is perfectly familiar with all the details in every department. He has under his control heads of different departments, whose business it is to manage their respective departments. He can step into either of these departments and tell in a moment whether the head of the department is having the work done correctly, and can teach them, or he can rectify any errors of either of them. And he can run an engine as well as any one under him. If he were not able to instruct, and to correct errors in any department under him, he would be deficient in qualification, and incompetent to discharge correctly the duties of his office.

Again, I am president of the board of education of the city of Atlanta. We employ a superintendent there, Mr. B. Mallon, who has under him different departments, such as the high schools and grammar schools, and he has heads to these departments, and it is his business to devote his time to the supervision and management of the business and details of the different departments under him. For doing this he receives a large salary from the tax payers of the city. To do this correctly, he should understand what is taught in each department, and should be able at any moment to teach, or to correct errors, in the teaching of any one of them. Unlike the superintendent of the railroad, he did not in youth prepare himself for these responsible duties, and he now acknowledges, over his own signature, his incompetency to discharge them. The difference between the two superintendents is very marked. In each case it is his duty to understand all the details under him and to see that the head of each department properly and correctly discharges his duty. The railroad superintendent is competent to the task and manages it correctly. The superintendent of the schools acknowledges his incompetency and cannot discharge his duties correctly.

If he steps into the Greek class, and hears the students reciting he does not know whether the teacher is instructing them in Greek or Hebrew. And if he steps into the French class, he is unable to decide whether it is French or Choctaw. And I now have what I consider reliable information that almost as much may be said of his ignorance of other branches taught in the schools.

My duties, as president, are very similar in both cases and they do not embrace the details of either. The superintendent's duties in each case are similar, and they do embrace the details and require competency on his part to understand what is doing and to instruct in each.

I trust Mr. Mallon will not consider that I have been tedious under this head, as I wish to make both the comparison and the contrast between a competent and an incompetent superintendent, so plain that even he can understand them without a knowledge of either Greek or French.

With that instinct to deceive, which has become so characteristic of the man, Mr. Mallon attempts to make the impression on the minds of your readers that I voted for him for seven years. He says I have witnessed his unanimous election to the office of superintendent for these seven years. Now he positively knew when he made this statement that it was not true.

The schools went into operation early in the year 1872. Mr. Mallon has been secretary of the board of education ever since, and has kept the records with his own hands; and his own records will show that I have neither witnessed his unanimous reelection, nor have I voted for him within the past two years. I do not think the record will show that I have voted for him in three years. He makes a point on my deficiency in knowledge of bookkeeping. If he keeps honest, faithful books, he falsifies them when he speaks from them. His books and his statements do not balance. But if I am asked the reason why I formerly voted for him and do not now so vote, my reply is short and simple. I voted for him then and do not vote for him now, because I did not then know him as well as I do now.

In my last, I presented as a witness B. Mallon, alias Barney Malone, as the illiterate friends of his youth are said to have pronounced it. I proved by his express admission that Superintendent Mallon is incompetent for his place. I also proved by the admission of said witness, as therein specified, that the superintendent enforces one rule of discipline in one school, and another in a different school; and that he has characterised acts of discipline as harsh and severe, in one school while he tolerates acts of triple severity in another.

In his reply he attempts to take back the latter admission, and now seeks to deny that part of the charge. According to strict legal rules, my witness has to some extent, discredited himself by admitting a fact on one occasion and denying it on another.

In this state of the case, I have concluded to introduce other witnesses, whose veracity the superintendent will not dare to question. Before doing so, however, I wish to amend the charge, and make it more explicit.

I now charge that Superintendent Mallon, in the discharge of his duties, has been guilty of gross injustice and partiality in this, that he has ordered students to be promoted from the grammar school to the high school, of a lower grade of scholarship and preparation, over those of a higher grade of scholarship and preparation, for the reason that the students so ordered to be promoted over those better entitled to it, were children of rich and very influential families. These facts never came to my knowledge till within the last year.

In proof of this charge, I respectfully call the attention of your readers to the correspondence between Captain Bray and myself hereto appended. Captain Bray, as will be seen, is explicit and to the point, and establishes the charge beyond question. Neither he nor I have felt at liberty to use the names of the persons so promoted or bring them before the public in this discussion without their consent.

Nor have we mentioned the name of the lady who was teacher of the second grade and who was ordered to make the promotion, by sending up the young lady to the superintendent to be promoted after Capt. Bray, the principal of the school, had protested against it. Captain Bray, however, as the authority of this lady, whose reputation is above all question, for saying that his statement is entirely correct.

The promotion was made over her protest also, and she, as I am informed, was so struck with the injustice that, in obeying the order to send up the young lady, she sent with her all those who stood above her in the class. On the next day she was reprimanded by the superintendent for sending up for promotion so many who were not qualified. Her reply was that the injustice was so palpable that she could not obey the order without sending those that were entitled to precedence along with the one who stood below them, and who had been ordered up for promotion. After this, I am informed, the superintendent never found much to commend in the work of this teacher, who was one of the best and brightest in our schools.

I could enumerate and prove numerous other acts of injustice and partiality among students and teachers, and especially the partiality of Mr. Mallon for certain northern teachers in the schools, who seem to be his particular pets. But to do so, I would be compelled to introduce the statement of female witnesses, as the most of our teachers are ladies. This I do not choose to do, at present. Some of these statements are in my possession, but they will not be made public with this communication.

Now, fellow-citizens of Atlanta, I leave it for you to say, whether a man who caters to the rich and influential, and discriminates against the poor and friendless, is the proper person for superintendent of the public schools.

Some of the brightest boys and girls in Atlanta are the children of the middle and humbler classes, so far as wealth and influence are concerned. In our public schools, equal and exact justice should be meted out alike to the poor and to the rich. No one, it matters not how rich, how influential, or how powerful, should be promoted over those whose conduct is equally good, and whose scholarship is of a higher grade. Merit alone should control in every case. Under the present superintendent, it has not been so, as I have clearly shown. Ought this state of things to continue? Should we not have a superintendent who holds the scales of justice, equally balanced between the poor and the rich, the weak and the strong, the humble and the powerful, and who does not feel himself above association with parents of good character, even in the humbler walks of life?

As a member of the board of education, it became my duty to vote in the election of superintendent. Before doing so, I thought proper to make certain remarks in reference to the qualifications and duties of the superintendent, and to express my opinion that Mr. Mallon did not possess all the necessary qualifications. To show that I had no favorites to serve, I proposed, for the sake of harmony, to vote for any gentleman who was honest, impartial and well qualified, who might be named by the other side. For the course I felt it my duty to take, the superintendent, since his election, has attacked me in the newspapers, using discourteous and offensive language. Under these circumstances, I have felt it my duty to place before the public a more definite charge of injustice and partiality, and to submit proof of its truth. Occupying the official position I do, in connection with the schools, I felt that I would be unfaithful if I had done less. Those who support and patronize the schools, ought to know the true character and conduct of their superintendent.

But Mr. Mallon intimates that I have malice against him, and that he is in my way. Malice against him? For what? What can he do to injure me? B. Mallon in my way? How or in what respect? What does he have, or what has he ever had, that I need or desire? And what position is he competent to fill that I want or can possibly afford to accept? Whatever pity I may have for his weakness and incompetency; or whatever contempt I may feel for his insincerity, injustice, unfairness and partiality in the discharge of his official duty, I cannot possibly entertain malice against him, nor can I, under any conceivable circumstances, regard him as in my way.

JOSEPH E. BROWN.

The Corespondence.

JOS. E. BROWN TO CAPT. BRAY:

ATLANTA, GA., October 2, 1878—Capt. Wellborn Bray, Atlanta, Ga.—Dear Sir: As you were at the head of one of the grammar schools of the city of Atlanta for several years and are now directly connected with the schools, engaged in the practice of law, I respectfully ask you to state, whether during the period you had charge of the grammar school under B. Mallon's superintendency, you know of any acts of partiality exercised by him as such superintendent, or of any distinctions made by him, between scholars, on account of the wealth or position of their friends. If you know of any such facts please give me a statement of them for publication. I think it due to the people of Atlanta and the patrons of the school, that they should know the true character of the superintendent. If you believe Mr. Mallon was free from give him the benefit of your knowledge or belief on that subject. Very truly, etc.,

JOSEPH E. BROWN.

CAPT. BRAY TO JOSEPH E. BROWN.

ATLANTA, GA., October 4, 1878. Ex-Governor Joseph E. Brown, Atlanta, Ga.—Dear Sir: In reply to your communication of the 2d inst., I make the following statements of facts. During my connection with the public schools, and while principal of Ivy street school, there were two conspicuous promotions, without reference to the grade of scholarship, of two young ladies to the girl's high school, whose names I forbear to mention for obvious reasons. In the one instance, and subsequent to the first examination, after the inauguration of the public school system, Mr. Mallon approached me with the statement that there was a young lady in the school whose father was a formidable opponent of the system, on account of his wealth and influence; and suggested that if she were promoted, it might neutralize or disarm his opposition. I replied that I never catered to wealth, or power, and knew nothing of the legerdemain of policy,—that it would be an injustice to the girls whose standard of scholarship was higher than that of hers whose advancement was proposed, and that if the public schools succeeded, they should be pillared upon justice and not upon policy, with perhaps some other remarks indicating my opposition. Mr. Mallon then called upon the teacher of the second grade and instructed her to send the young lady up to the high school, which, by permission of the principal, she did with eight or ten others, who graded higher. The next day he called upon the teacher and inquired why the unwarranted promotion of scholars below the required average? to which she replied that his instruction was to send up a certain one, and the others graded higher and could not be refused promotion with out injustice. The young lady with the others was promoted. I am at liberty to say that the teacher of the 2d grade confirms this statement. In the second instance, the young lady had very influential connections, but no reason that I can now recollect was assigned for the promotion.

In regard to my opinion of the gentleman, his partiality, etc., I can only say, that I deem him a man of consummate diplomacy—advancing or receding whenever opportunity or necessity requires, "all things to all men," and particularly so to some to accomplish his ends. I cannot say that he was impartial, for certainly there were some teachers, without particularizing, who received more of his favorable attention than others; to the former he was bland, complaisant, and communicative; to the latter cold, distant and taciturn. He had a very frigid way of making them feel his authority. The above is at your disposal. I have the honor to be, your most obedient servant,

WELLBORN BRAY.

LIVER REMEDIES.

DR. M. W. CASE'S
Liver Remedy
AND
BLOOD PURIFIER
Tonic and Cordial.

This is not a patent medicine, but is prepared under the direction of Dr. M. W. Case, from his favorite prescription, which in an extensive practice of over twenty-seven years he has found most effective in all cases of disordered liver or impure blood. It is

ANTI-BILIOUS.

It acts directly upon the liver, restoring it when diseased to its normal condition; and in regulating the activity of this great gland every other organ of the system is benefited. In Blood Diseases it has no equal as a purifier. It improves digestion, and assists nature to eliminate all impurities from the system; and while it is the cheapest medicine in the market, it is also superior to all known remedies. While it is more effectual than Blue Mass, it is mild and perfectly safe, containing nothing that can in the slightest degree injure the system. It does not sicken or give pain; neither does it weaken the patient nor leave the system constipated, as do most other medicines.

It Cures Liver Complaint, Dyspepsia, Bilious Fever, Headache, Sick Headache, Water-Brash, Heartburn, Sick Stomach, Jaundice, Colic, Vertigo, Neuralgia, Palpitation of the Heart, Female Irregularities and Weakness, all Skin and Blood Diseases, Worms, Fever and Ague, and Constipation of the Bowels.

In small doses it is also a sure cure for Chronic Diarrhœa.

Taken two or three times a day, it prevents Yellow Fever, Diphtheria, Scarlet Fever, Cholera, and Small-Pox.

HOW TO BE YOUR OWN DOCTOR. Use Dr. Case's Liver Remedy and Blood Purifier, a pleasant Tonic and Cordial. ANTI-BILIOUS. And save your doctor bills. Only 25 cts. a bottle. It is the most effective and valuable medicine ever offered to the American people. As fast as its merits become known, its use becomes universal in every community. No family will be without it after having once tested its great value. It has proved an inestimable blessing to thousands who have used it, restoring back health and strength to those who were seemingly at death's door. Prepared at the Laboratory of the Case Medicine Co., Philadelphia, Pa.

Sold in bottles per Bottle, 25c. Extra Large Size, 75c. For sale by Druggists, General Stores, and Agents.

ATLANTA, GA., OCTOBER 6, 1878.

THROUGH THE CITY.

SIDEWALK NOTES.

The city is full of strangers.

Buckwheat cakes will soon be in season.

Plenty of building still going on in our city.

The city council will meet on Monday night.

The barbecue at Buckhead yesterday was a success.

The streets last night were crowded with purchasing agents.

The Alert base ball club will soon commence to practice daily.

Chattanooga is well represented in Atlanta by many of her leading citizens.

Griffin is trying to organize a base ball club to enter for the premium at our fair.

A large number of new buggies reached this city by the Western & Atlantic railroad yesterday.

We learn that a number of our citizens are going to the LaGrange fair next week. It will be a big success in all respects.

A party consigned a lot of buggies to Macon, Ga., and the sale was duly advertised. One buggy was sold. The same party consigned to an auction house in Atlanta, advertised for three days, and the car-load of sixteen vehicles was sold at fair prices.

Mr. M. E. Thornton having retired absolutely from all politics, will henceforth devote himself entirely to literature. We are glad to note that he has established here in Atlanta a correspondent's bureau, and he will correspond for papers all over the country. Papers in the north wishing a correspondent here will find Mr. Thornton a good one.

PERSONAL.

Mr. Fred Dismuke, of Griffin, is in the city.

Ed Peters will some day rise to be a railroad king.

Mr. R. P. Spencer, of Columbus, is in the city, registered at the Kimball. Dick will remain here with his many friends until after the fair.

Yesterday morning Mr. John E. Wilkinson, formerly of Atlanta, but now of New York, returned to the city on a business tour. Jack has always been one of our most popular young men and yesterday his friends greeted him most cordially.

Mr Thomas C. Carlton from Harmony Grove, Jackson county, has come to our city for the purpose of studying law. He is with Gen. L. J. Gartrell and will finish his law course under him. Mr. Carlton is a young gentleman of fine mind and has a standing in his former home equal to any young man in the state. We have no doubt he will make a good lawyer; with a bright mind and the facilities he has he could not help becoming a good one.

HOLLAND & CRENSHAW,

DENTISTS,

24 Whitehall street, cor. Alabama, Atlanta, Ga.

First-class operators, second to none; charges less than any other FIRST-CLASS dentists in the South. A majority of our gold fillings made for $1 per filling. Artificial teeth $5 to $15 per set.

Our new dental plate (perfected by Dr. Holland) is far superior to rubber or celluloid, and in point of cleanliness and strength preferable to gold.

Teeth extracted for 50 cents. Teeth extracted without pain, by the use of gas and other anesthetics.

We propose to be thorough in each and every operation we perform, and can refer to hosts of the best citizens of Atlanta to substantiate all we claim.

Our motto—Comfort and permanent benefit to our patrons.

What is Portaline?

This question is thus briefly and truthfully answered. Portaline, or Tabler's Vegetable Liver Powder, derives its name from the fact that it regulates those portals of the body through which the most dangerous diseases make their entrance into the human system. Simple roots and herbs, for which we are indebted to bountiful nature, have been scientifically combined, and presented as a sure cure to all suffering with Constipation, Biliousness, Dyspepsia and all diseases arising from torpid liver. Price 50 cents a Package.

DAVID H. DOUGHERTY,

WHOLESALE AND RETAIL DEALER IN

Dry Goods, Fancy Goods, Notions, Trimmings,

FURNISHING GOODS, &c.,

35 Peachtree Street, Atlanta, Ga.

This is my Fall (1878) Announcement.

MY STOCK COMPLETE AND LARGE!

MY PRICES CORRECT AND SMALL!

To those who do not know me personally, I will state, that from my earlyboyhood I have been in the Dry Goods business in this place, and whether or not I have learned anything else, I do know that I have learned to buy Dry Goods Cheap; and I have learned the fact that the successful merchants of this wide awake day, are those who are willing to handle large quantities of goods for a small per centage; and that those who complain of hard times are those who cling like grim death to a mere handful of goods, under the deluded idea of of twenty years ago—37 per cent—but it wont pan now. Hence, my determination to sustain the well earned reputation that I have acquired for selling goods cheap, and my small profit plan is being sustained by the people.

Dress Goods.

The largest stock South of Baltimore. Domestics Dress Goods in almost any style and price. Also. French Novelty Suitings, including all the newest designs in Imported and Fancy Dress Goods, Black Cashmeres, Black Alpacas from lowest price to the best silk warp. Henriettas, any quality, including silk warp. Tamise and Australian Cloths for Mourning, Empress Cloth, and in fact anything that you may desire that is nice and cheap can be found in this department.

SILKS! SILKS!

An immense stock of Black Gros Grain and Black Cashmere Silks. Also, a great variety of Colored Dress and Trimming Silks, including Bronze, Navy Blue, Myrtle Green, Plum and Wine Color, and in fact it will dazzle the eye to behold the splendor of this department. They are not high either.

Silk Velvets and Satins.

Black and Colored Satins, almost any shade. Black and Colored Velvets in almost any shades. These goods are very popular this season as Trimming and I have them in the handsomest combinations. If you buy of me in this department you can trim your dress elaborately and still have money left.

Button, Trimmings, Etc.

Buttons in Gilt, Silvered and Jet, including all the newest styles, Almond Shape, white and Smoked, Pearl, Goldfish, Vegetable, Ivory, all shapes in white and colored. Plain and Crochet all colors; Bombazine, &c., &c. Don't pass this department. If you do, you will lose both time and money.

BELOW ARE SPECIALTIES.

On Hamburgs I save you twenty-five per cent. Two, three and four Button Kid Gloves. Big stock and best quality. BEST 50 CENTS KID GLOVES EVER SOLD EVERY PAIR WARRANTED. Ladies' Neck Wear in all the new novelties. In Table Linens and Towels I cant be undersold. An immense variety of Plain and Fancy Hosiery, Dress Shields, Dress Protectors, Corsets, India Rubber Bracelets from 10 cents to 15 cents per pair—very handy. Zephyr, Handkerchiefs, Plain Linen, Hemstitched and Mourning. In fact, in Notions, Fancy Goods and Trimmings, I carry the largest stock South.

Cloaks! Cloaks!

In this department I carry a very large stock. All of which was manufactured expressly to my order, made of the best Beavers and Diagonals; cut and Trimmed in the latest style. In this department Competition is invited. But my prices win.

Blankets, Shawls, Etc.

Could you see the immense stacks of Blankets and Shawls that are in my house and hear the prices, the dread of winter nights would not trouble your mind, and you will scarcely miss the money from your pockets after buying them, for I got rock bottom prices before I bought, and mean to sell them accordingly. I can do you good here. In Water-proofs, Repellynts, Flannels, Pant Goods and Cloaking my stock is unsurpassed and prices likewise.

FACTS.

Most of my goods are bought for my wholesale department, by the package FOR CASH, by myself and resident buyer in New York, therefore I buy where the money will get the most. My goods are all on exhibition and will sustain for me all I claim, when you see them and hear the prices. I WILL NOT BE UNDERSOLD.

Others may imitate me, but none can compete with my goods and prices. I advertise no goods that are not in stock. No misrepresentations! and one man's money as good as another's. My Motto: Dispatch in filling orders; Prompt and Polite Attention to Customers; Good Goods and Low Prices.

I thank the generous public for their encouragement and stand ready to serve you to the best of my ability when called upon.

JOHN KEELY

HAS JUST RETURNED FROM NEW YORK, HAVING PURCHASED BY FAR THE LARGEST AND MOST CAREFULLY SELECTED STOCK of Dry Goods, Hats, Shoes, etc., which he has ever brought to this market, and never has there been a more propitious time for obtaining "BARGAINS" than he has experienced on this trip.

Having attended every prominent Auction Sale which occurred in New York for the past three weeks, and having culled therefrom, the very choicest goods (whenever they were sacrificed) there can be no doubt that this stock presents features entirely novel as regards prices, and even a cursory inspection of the same will convince any judge of goods as to WHERE THEIR INTEREST LIES in making purchases.

Besides the above advantages, I can also offer to my patrons the advantage of some importations of my own in the following lines, viz: Black Silks, Black Cashmeres, Black Alpacas, and elegant Cloaks.

In these lines of goods, I can and will give prices entirely "unmatchable."

The following abridged mention of goods will convey some idea of the magnitude and desirability of this stock, viz:

DRESS GOODS AND SILKS.

1,200 yards Black Silks, 65 cents a yard; a real good training Silk.
1,870 yards Black Gros Grain Silk, 75c, 85c and 90c per yard, excellent value for the money.
